Army Deserter Is Held as Possible Kidnaping Suspect

Man Named Gallagher Surrendered at Fort Williams, in Maine

IN MATTSON CASE

His Characteristics Reported Similar to Those of Kidnap-Slayer

FORT WILLIAMS, Me.—(AP)—Colonel Wilson Burt, commandant of Fort Williams, said Saturday he was holding a 30-year-old self-styled Army deserter, who, he said, had characteristics similar to some attributed to the kidnap-slayer of Charles Mattson of Tacoma, Wash.

Colonel Burt said the man surrendered to Army officials Thursday night, claiming he deserted from Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont, eight years ago.

He was unable to give a convincing story of his recent whereabouts, Burt said.

The commandant said the man gave the name of Gallagher.

133,000 Passes on Rails Investigated

Government Also Finds Pension Still Being Paid for War 1912

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Correspondent
WASHINGTON — Railroads issued 133,000 passes to persons other than employees during 1936 and the interstate commerce commission is beginning to lift its eyebrows. Helping to lift the eyebrows still higher is the discovery that 871,267 passes were issued for railroad employees to travel on other lines than the one they work for.

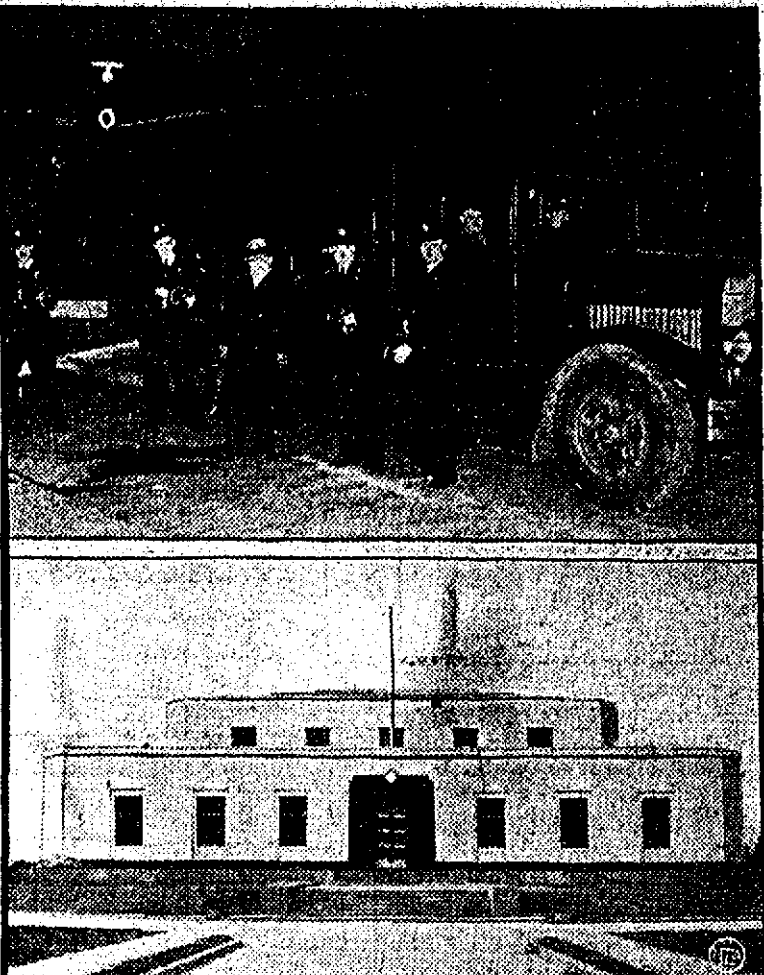

The commission has ordered railroads to report during 1937 just what it costs to handle the 133,000 non-employee passes, as well as the 871,267 passes for employees to travel off their own lines.

Half Billion in Gold Takes a Trip

Four guards with machine guns were only a part of the stern-faced contingent which guarded half a billion dollars in gold bullion when it was transferred from the Philadelphia mint to the new federal repository at Fort Knox, Ky. The upper picture shows a truck leaving the mint with 78 of the precious gold bars, which weighed nearly a ton and a half. The 78 bars in each truck load were worth a million dollars. The lower photo shows the impregnable granite, steel, and concrete "pillbox" which Uncle Sam has built as a safe-guard in case of war and against theft. From the trucks, the bullion was loaded on four mail cars and it was sent to Fort Knox by the government's own registered mail.

BAYONNE, France.—(AP)—Thousands of demonstrators were reported parading the streets of the insurgent Spanish city of Pamplona Saturday, threatening to storm the city's prisons and execute eye-for-eye vengeance on more than 2,000 Socialist prisoners.

The demonstrators were reported incensed over the alleged massacre early in the week of 208 insurgent hostages at the Basque capital of Bilbao in retaliation for an aerial bombardment.

Assistant Agent for Two Counties

Miss Polly Rouse to Serve Both Hempstead and Miller Counties

Miss Polly Rouse of Fayetteville arrived Friday to assume her duties as assistant home demonstration agent in Hempstead and Miller counties. Miss Rouse was graduated from the University of Arkansas in the class of 1935. She also attended school at Arkansas Polytechnic College at Russellville. She taught school for two years at Greenland, Ark. Miss Rouse was prominent in 4-H club work, winning honors in judging of canned goods and dairy demonstrations. In 1927-28 Miss Rouse and her twin sister were the champion team in dairy work in Arkansas winning trips to Memphis and Chicago.

Miss Crystal Campbell, assistant Clark and Nevada county agent, has been appointed Howard county agent and Miss Hazel Craig, Howard agent, transferred to Miller county.

Turned Brown By Brown Turner

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—If the sailors and dock workers on the Pacific rim of this country don't hurry up and end their strike some of the swanky dime stores will have to go out of business or start selling American-made trinkets. That might mean a lot of people who have been loafing the last few years will find jobs, and they're not used to work now, and the Japanese will have to close down a bunch of factories or drum up some new customers. Speaking of jobs, though, its getting so now you don't have to be recommended by everybody from your preacher to congressman to find one, and when they clap the forty-hour week on some of us may find time to do our fishing without worrying.

Security Numbers Must Be Listed

Employers Must Maintain Complete List of Employees' Accounts

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Employers and employees who have not taken the necessary steps to obtain their account numbers under the old-age benefits provisions of the Social Security Act, which became effective January, were urged Saturday by Ed McDonald, director of Region IX of the Social Security Board, to do so without delay. He said that it is very much to the interest of both employers and employees to have account numbers well in advance of the time they will be needed for the periodic information returns that will be required by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, which is charged with the duty of collecting the tax under the Social Security Act.

Under the regulations of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Mr. McDonald said, employers will be required to file periodic information returns containing their own identification numbers and the name and account number of each of their employees who is required to have an account number. The employee must also file an application for an account number for any employee who has failed to do so by the time the first information return is due.

Mr. McDonald announced that employers' applications for the account number, which is Form SS-5, may be obtained upon request at all local postoffice all field offices of the Board, all offices of the collectors of Internal Revenue, and at the Board offices in Washington. Employers' applications—Form SS-4—may be obtained in the same manner, and when filled out should be sent direct to the Wage Records Office of the Social Security Board, Baltimore, Maryland.

After the employee's application has been filled out, and all questions answered, it may be returned to the local postoffice through the employer, through a labor organization, or direct by mail or personal delivery.

Red Rising Foot a Day, But Flood Threat Dismissed

River at 18 Feet Saturday, Fulton Reports—Up 5 Feet in Week

STORM AT BLEVINS

Possible Flood Threats Exist on White and Ouachita Rivers

Although Red river at Fulton has risen about a foot a day for the past week there is no immediate danger of flood in that area, it was reported to The Star Saturday morning by Ben Wilson of that place.

The river stood at 18 feet Saturday morning, a rise of about five feet in the past week. Flood stage is 25 feet.

Mr. Wilson reported that most of the rainfall in the past two weeks had been in the immediate Fulton area—and not on the Red river region above Fulton. Little Rain has fallen above Index, he reported. He said that the heaviest precipitation above Fulton was recorded Friday at Index with 3/4 of an inch.

Storm Near Blevins

A. S. Williams of Blevins reported to The Star Saturday that a wind storm visited the Blevins area the latter part of this week, blowing down the smoke stack of the A. S. Williams sawmill, seven miles north of Blevins.

Mr. Williams said that eight trees in his yard were uprooted, one falling across the southwest corner of his house, damaging it considerably.

Other trees in the vicinity were blown down, blocking transportation on rural roads.

No one was injured and no livestock was reported hurt, Mr. Williams said.

White Is Threatening

LITTLE ROCK.—Melting Missouri snows and heavy rainfall may bring about flood conditions similar to June, 1935 in the White and Ouachita river valleys, the Weather Bureau predicted Friday night.

The White river rose 8.6 feet at Batesville overnight and was five feet above flood stage. At Camden, the Ouachita river had spread over a seven-mile area and a further rise was predicted. The White river was expected to rise several feet above flood stages at Newport, Georgetown and Clarendon. The river was expected to reach 33 feet this morning at Batesville, which is a half foot higher than in 1935.

In southeast Missouri, the St. Francis and Black rivers broke levees, forcing more than 100 families to evacuate the lowlands. In Arkansas, the Black river was 9.2 feet above flood stage at Black Rock in Lawrence county. Many hundreds of acres of fertile farming land were endangered in southeast Missouri and northeast Arkansas. Damage was reported to be

Rep. Lee Nichols Appears Alone as Investigating Committee's Agent

CAMERA EVIDENCE

Investigators Take Flashlight Pictures of Spa Gambling "Spots"

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Representative Lee Nichols, of Logan county, secretary of the house committee authorized to investigate law enforcement conditions in the Hot Springs area, started receiving testimony and compiling records here Saturday.

Nichols sat alone in the house chamber as agent of the committee. But state rangers assigned to aid the committee kept spectators and newsmen to the extreme rear of the chamber, too far away to hear the verbal testimony.

Houston Emory, former prosecuting attorney for Garland and Montgomery counties, was the first witness to be called.

Photograph Gambling

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Acting on authority of the House committee appointed to investigate charges of lawlessness in Hot Springs and Garland and Montgomery counties, officers of the State Department of Revenue and State Rangers Friday night paid what had all the earmarks of "friendly calls" on several gambling "spots" and near Hot Springs. At every place visited they found gambling in progress.

The manager, proprietor or operator of each place was served with a subpoena to "report forthwith" to the capital with records of various kinds for use of the committee.

Fortworth meant between 7 p.m. and noon Saturday. The House committee will be in session at the time and will receive the records and other items impending. Persons subpoenaed also may be questioned by the committee.

Photographer Sensation
Belvedere Club, about two miles from Hot Springs on the Little Rock highway, was the first stop made by the officers whom your correspondent accompanied. Two officers entered the club, served the subpoenas on Otis McGraw, the manager, and then a photographer was put to work making pictures of the elaborately furnished club.

It's a Great Life, Is Verdict of Trailerites, But Auto Homes Just a Big Headache to Cities' Legal Experts

With winter urging them southward, thousands of the growing army of trailerites follow the sun. One of a dozen trailer parks at St. Petersburg, Fla., is shown at top, while below, the E. G. Grosses of St. Paul, Minn., take their ease on the "porch" of their rolling home, complete with shell-bordered paths, embryo landscaping, and pet police dog.

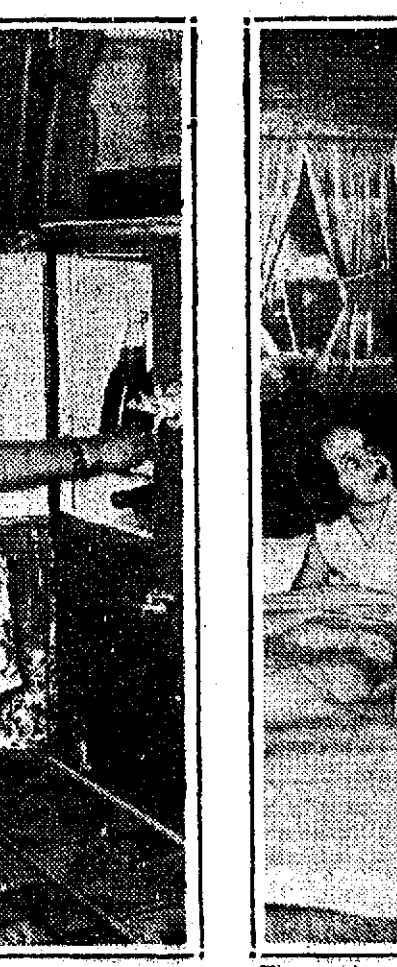

The trailerite just plugs in on the city current, as Miss Dorothy Hill of Herkimer, N. Y., is doing in this picture.

Social events are readily organized in the colony, and, like Miss Jane E. Piper of Tyrone, Pa., the trailerite "dresses up."

After the party a midnight snack is nice. So, like Miss Anna Louise Walters of Columbus, O., back you go to your trailer-home to raid the icebox, as you used to do in the old home.

Then, when bedtime comes, the couch becomes a bed. Mrs. J. J. Locke of Feroskey, Mich., tucks her little daughter Peggy into the sheets for a pleasant and untroubled night's rest. What a life!

Arkansas Loses to Mustangs, 29 to 25

Razorbacks Are Held Scoreless First 11 Minutes of Game

DALLAS, Texas. — (AP) — Southern Methodist's surprising basketball team defeated Arkansas's towering Razorbacks, 29 to 25, Friday night to retain the Southwest Conference leadership.

J. D. Norton, one of three sophomores in the Methodist line-up, found the basket for four free throws in the first five minutes to put the Mustangs in front. The Ponies led throughout. The Methodist defense held the Razorbacks scoreless for the first 11 minutes.

Norton, given eight free shots before he was ejected from the game early in the second half on fouls, sank them all. He added a field goal for a total of 10 points in the Don Lockard, Arkansas forward, for high point honors.

The Mustangs led, 11 to 10, at the half.

On the first tip-off of the second period, Blanton scored a field goal, followed in quick succession by Dewell and Norton, to give the Ponies a seven-point advantage after one minute of play.

Bobby Martin, Razorback guard, looked good on the defense and scored on five late shots late in the contest. Jack Tobin, Arkansas guard, was ejected in the first 10 minutes for protesting a decision.

The teams met here again Saturday night. The defeat was Arkansas's second against one victory. The Methodistists have won three and lost one.

The first picture, of a group around a dice table, "caught" the boys in action. Apparently, they were surprised that anything of the sort could take place at the Belvedere. However, after one or two "flashes" were made, the guests started scrambling, evidently under the impression that their pictures might appear in some newspaper.

A dozen or more photographs of gambling paraphernalia were made. One picture was made on the "other side" of the club, where many guests were dining or dancing.

Gives Some Advice

Completing their job at the Belvedere, the officers next stopped at the Southern Club and Grill. It was there that on Arkansas Gazette correspondence got the thrill of his life, of you could call it a thrill. The officers in the party and the photographer were about 20 feet ahead of a reporter, who paused for a moment to assist the photographer by carrying part of his picture-making paraphernalia.

Then, as we started to enter the building, a gentleman brushed against us and suggested, "If I were you, Buddy, I wouldn't go in there."

"How come?" we inquired politely.

"Wouldn't go in there, Buddy," the gentleman repeated.

Again your puzzled correspondent asked why. Really, he could see no reason for not going in when he had seen others in there.

Emphasizes His Remarks

But when the aforementioned gentleman sort of glanced downward, and your correspondent's glance followed his, your correspondent also believed as the gentleman himself believed.

For your reporter saw a big gun pointing toward his very innards.

"O. K.," said your correspondent. "We were not interested further in entering the Southern Club."

Retreating to the curb, we waited, believing that maybe one of the officers might miss us and come back out. Shaking at the knees considerably, we saw a Hot Springs police officer whom we knew.

"Hey, aren't you So-and-So?" we asked.

"Sure," he replied.

We introduced ourselves and told him of our dilemma, and pointed out the gentleman who had almost panicked us.

"Oh, him. He's just a guard," the police officer said.

About that time, Robert Faust, a state Revenue Department officer, came up, and we told him of our plight and pointed out the gentleman who objected to our entrance into the Southern Club.

Bob took immediate action.

"How come you wouldn't let us in here?" he asked. "Oh, I just said I wouldn't go in there, the gentleman said, and sort of smiled as if to say that he was just kidding."

Then your correspondent entered, with Bob close by, but with considerable uneasiness.

However, with the gentleman quieted, we experienced no further trouble.

All the officers wanted was pictures of gambling paraphernalia, and they got plenty. The managers or proprietors of the places were as courteous as though we had been honest-to-goodness guests. One member of the party committed the faux pas of suggesting that a drink would be acceptable, since he had gotten sort of chilled riding over from Little Rock.

He was politely refused.

"Brother, there's not a drop in the house," he was told.

slight, however, as few crops are planted.

Arkansas Rises

The Arkansas river rose steadily Friday but observers doubted that it would pass flood stage. A 21-foot stage was predicted for Little Rock by Wednesday. Flood stage is 23 feet.

Temperature fell as the rivers rose and a low of 28 degrees was forecast for Little Rock Friday night. Saturday's forecast is for fair weather. The cold wave was said to be general over the South, extending almost to the Gulf of Mexico.

Accidents on the new auto highways and country roads of Germany increased 28 per cent in the year ending in October.

The Loyal Class is still the only group in the school "Out of the Red." Other classes must make the following goals this week to join these leaders: Everyman's, 39; Loyal Women, 16; Service, 34; Trojan, 19; Busy Bees, 17; Primary, 24. Not one of these goals is too high like the members of the Loyal class have been doing for the past five weeks.

Bad weather is a test of the Christian's loyalty. If every other member of your church attended just like you do, how long would the church continue to hold its regular worship services.

Columbus and Ashdown Split 2

Columbus Girls Win, 32 to 21—Boys Lose by Score 30 to 19

ASHDOWN, Ark.—The Ashdown high school boys basketball team defeated the Columbus, Ark., quintet here 30-19 Friday night, while the local girls' squad dropped a 32-21 contest to the visitors from the same town.

The boys' team were fairly well matched during the first half, with Ashdown leading 9-6 at the end of that period. However, the local squad forced ahead in the second half to command an impressive lead.

Daniels of Ashdown led the scoring for the boys, making 11 points. His teammate, Beck, was second with eight points.

Little difference was noted between the two girls' teams during the first half, although Columbus led 14-12 at the end of the period. The visitors widened the difference in the second half, however, ending the contest with a substantial advantage.

Mary Woolsey of Columbus led the scoring in the girls' contest, making 18 points. Boyce of Columbus and Cobb of Ashdown were tied for second-place honors, each turning in 11 points.

Lineups for the Ashdown boys, to walk with their scores: Beck, 8; Walker, 6; Teener, 2; Daniels, 11; City, 3.

Columbus boys: C. Couch, 4; A. Couch, 6; Griffin, 6; Boyce, 6; Liveley, 3.

Ashdown girls: Lester, M. Johnson, Cobb, Grimes, Patterson and Irene Johnson.

Columbus girls: Boyce, Mary Woolsey, Walker, Griffin, F. Woolsey and Downs.

Neutrality

What with one interruption and another, the Spanish munitions ship cleared from New York with planes aboard, but at the same moment an equally big "shipload" of propaganda headed for Washington.

The government's seeming inability to handle the Spanish ship was the best propaganda that could be advanced by those advocating a change in the neutrality law so as to give the President greater discretion in handling arms embargo situations. Knowing ones in Washington suspected that if New York port authorities had been told in no uncertain terms to stop that ship, they could have found means to stop it.

MATTIE'S THEATERS

At the New "Snowed Under" a rollicking first National comedy romance with a New England setting, comes to the New theatre Sunday and Monday bringing together a leading male and female cast, all of whom are top notch Hollywood stars in their own right. George Brent has the lead while the feminine trio is composed of Genevieve Tobin, Glenda Farrell and Patricia Ellis.

The hilarious comedy situations show a handsome young playwright snowed in a Connecticut farmhouse with two ex-wives and a new sweetheart, a lovelorn lawyer and a roundish sheriff.

Brent has the role of the playwright, who has promised a drama to a New York producer, but is unable to get an idea for his final act. Genevieve Tobin, in the role of his first wife, now divorced but still in love with her ex-husband, goes to Brent's retreat to help him out, at the suggestion of the producer, Porter Hall, she having some talent in the literary field herself.

Then comes Glenda Farrell, the second wife, who had stolen Brent's affections from Miss Tobin, but is now clamoring for alimony which the luckless young playwright is unable to pay. She brings with her, her lawyer, a part played by John Eldridge, and the sheriff, Frank McHugh, intending to see that her ex-meal-ticket is lodged behind the bars of the local jail.

And lastly, just before the blizzard

Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said only a day or two before the boat sailed that "public opinion" would prevent the planes and munitions being sent to Spain. He had been in close touch with the state department. Reporters got the idea that some maneuver was planned by which "public opinion" would prevent the shipment leaving America. Yet the ship cleared without a show of federal teeth.

Now the argument can, and will, be advanced that such unusual situations can not be anticipated fully by congress and the President ought to have wide power to act in emergencies.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

with Major Hoople

LISTEN TO THIS! BIG BANK ROBBERY FOILED—NOTORIOUS BANDIT, 'REDDY, THE FOX', KO'D BY CITIZEN—NAME IS WITHHELD, DUE TO FEAR OF REVENGE FROM GANGLAND! $100,000 RECOVERED!

MAJOR HOOPLE HAD READ THAT FIRST HE'D HAVE HAD A STORY ALL COOKED AND READY TO DISH OUT, THAT HE WAS THE CITIZEN HERO!

MAJOR HOOPLE HAD READ IT MIGHT SURPRISE YOU SCOFFERS IF...

FAW, I'LL NOT TELL THEM! THEY'LL FIND OUT THE TRUTH SOON ENOUGH!

HOOPLE HAS A LAUGH UP HIS SLEEVE

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

HEY, WILLIE—HAVE Y'SEEN BOOTS?

SURE! SHE'S PULLIN' OUT, NOW—BOOTS, CORA, BABE AN' WHOSIT

ALLEY OOP

AWRIGHT, YOU GUYS—GIT A MOVE ON! Y'AIN'T FOOLIN' WITH FOOLY, NOW—WE AIN'T GOT ALL DAY T'FIX UP THESE FORTIFICATIONS

CLONK!

WASH TUBBS

DAY AFTER DAY, IT ALWAYS IS THE SAME.

THANKS TO MY MAGNETIC BOXING RING, SONNY! I PUSH THE BUTTON AND—

GOOD FIGHTERS AND BAD, BIG MEN AND SMALL, THEY'RE ALL THE SAME TO EASY.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

ALL OVER A GIRL, I SUPPOSE?

YES, SIR! AND EVERY TIME I ASK HER FOR A DATE I FIND HE HAS BEATEN ME TO IT!!

WELL, YOUNG MAN, I'VE NEVER SEEN YOU BEFORE! I'M THE PRESIDENT OF THIS BANK! WHO HIRED YOU?

MR. ASP!!

MYRA NORTH, SPECIAL NURSE

WELL, JACK—I SUPPOSE THE TIME HAS COME TO SAY GOOD BYE.

YES, BUT I'M AFRAID YOU'RE GOING TO BE BORED TO DEATH, HERE, MYRA, WHAT WITH NO SERVANTS OR...

OH, LADY! ANSLY'S JUST A BIT ECCENTRIC... A NEUROTIC TYPE, YOU KNOW. PROBABLY DRIVES AWAY ALL THE HELP, BUT I CAN HANDLE HER, ALL RIGHT.

THEN IT'S ALL REVOLVING, MY DEAR.

OUT OUR WAY

By WILLIAM

HE'S CAUGHT! TH' BOSS WILL LAY FOR HIM COMIN' BACK FROM HEINIE'S BEER JOINT—TH' JACKET AN' CAP HANGIN' ON TH' WALL WAS ENOUGH, WITH-OUT PAINTIN' THEM EARS ON TH' WALL.

MY WIFE PAINTS AN' SHE SEZ TH' BIG TROUBLE WITH ART IS OVERDOIN' IT—SHE SEZ SOME-ONE SHOULD BE AROUND TO TELL YOU WHEN TO LAY OFF.

WELL, CO'D IT BE HERE IDEAL HE'LD TOLD LAY OFF AND...

THE FINISHING TOUCH.

Oh, Oh!!!

WHERE ARE WE GOING, BOOTS?

OH, I DON'T KNOW! I THOUGHT MAYBE DOWN BY A LITTLE PLACE NAMED BRIERWOOD! IT'S AWFUL PRETTY

BRIERWOOD!!! B-R-I-E-R-W-O-O-D!!! ??? GOSH...SOMEHOW, THAT NAME SOUNDS AWFUL FAMILIAR

Tunk Is Popped Out

CHIZZEL ME OUTA MY BOSSIN' JOB!! TH' DIRTY, LOW-DOWN LEMIAN SWAB!

AWRIGHT, YOU GUYS—C'MON, LET'S GO—WE GOTTA HURRY THIS JOB, YOU KNOW—YOU SAID IT, FELLA—WE WILL HAVE IT DONE IN JIG TIME.

Easy Is Suspicious

24 CONSECUTIVE KNOCKOUTS! WHY, LAD, YOU'RE A SENSATION.

RATS! SOME O' THOSE BOYS ARE BETTER THAN I AM, THEY FIGHT LIKE BLAZES FOR A COUPLE O' ROUNDS.

THEN FOLD UP! QUIT! I CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT.

IT'S BECAUSE THEY'RE SCARED, WITH ALL THAT T. MAN PUBLICITY, WHY, THEY LIKED BEFORE THEY GET INTO THE RING.

For Your Information

YOU SEEM TO GO AT YOUR WORK WITH VIM AND VIGOR!

WHEN I MOP THE FLOOR, I IMAGINE I'M MOPPING UP ON A RIVAL OF MINE! AND WHEN I WRING OUT THE MOP, I PRETEND I GOT HIM BY THE NECK!!

HIS NAME IS SIDNEY WICKLEY, JR., AND I GOT THIS JOB JUST TO GET MONEY TO DATE MY GIRL, AND BEAT HIM OUT!

HMM! SIDNEY WICKLEY, JR.? WHEN YOU FINISH WHAT YOU'RE DOING, POLISH THE BRASS SIGN ON MY DESK!

SIDNEY WICKLEY, JR.
